Sale of Protected Health Information (PHI)

Effective Date: December 2016

Policy Statement

The Columbia University Healthcare Component (CUHC) shall not directly or indirectly receive remuneration, including non-financial benefits such as in-kind benefits, in exchange for any Protected Health Information (PHI), unless patient authorization is obtained or an applicable exception applies.

Reason(s) for the Policy

Subject to certain exceptions, the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 ("HIPAA") prohibits the Sale of Protected Health Information (PHI). This Policy describes the procedures the CUHC shall follow in order to ensure that any remuneration in exchange for PHI is conducted in compliance with applicable law, including HIPAA.

Policy Text

1. General Rule
   If CUHC receives direct or indirect remuneration from or on behalf of a person or entity in exchange for PHI, a valid HIPAA authorization shall be obtained from the patient(s) who are the subjects of the information, unless one of the exceptions in section # 3 applies.

2. Evaluate if a disclosure of PHI is a “Sale of PHI”
   Prior to disclosing any PHI in exchange for direct or indirect remuneration, CUHC shall evaluate whether such disclosure is a Sale of PHI.
3. Exceptions
The disclosure of PHI for any of the following purposes is not considered a Sale of PHI under HIPAA:

   a. Public health purposes;

   b. Research purposes, where the remuneration is a reasonable, cost-based fee to cover the cost to prepare and transmit the PHI;

   c. Treatment and payment purposes;

   d. Sale, transfer, merger, or consolidation of all or part of a the CUHC with another covered entity, or an entity that will become a covered entity following the transaction and due diligence related to this activity;

   e. Business Associate activities that a Business Associate undertakes on behalf of a covered entity (or a subcontractor undertakes on behalf of a Business Associate) provided that the only remuneration provided is by the covered entity to the Business Associate (or Business Associate to a subcontractor) for the performance of such activities;

   f. To patients, when the patient requests access to PHI or an accounting of disclosures;

   g. Disclosures required by law; and

   h. Any other disclosures permitted by the HIPAA Privacy Rule, where the only remuneration received by the covered entity or Business Associate is a reasonable, cost-based fee to cover the cost to prepare and transmit the PHI or a fee otherwise expressly permitted by other law.

4. State law
Any disclosure of PHI in exchange for remuneration that meets an exception under HIPAA shall be further evaluated under applicable state law to ensure such exchange is permissible without patient authorization under applicable state law.

5. Authorization Requirement
If a disclosure of PHI meets the definition of a Sale of PHI and an applicable exception does not apply, CUHC shall obtain patient authorization.

   a. Patient authorization shall be obtained and the authorization obtained shall specifically disclose that CUHC will receive direct or indirect remuneration in exchange for the PHI.

   b. The authorization form is available on the HIPAA web page.

   c. The signed authorization form shall be placed in the patient’s medical record.
d. Questions related to a Sale of PHI disclosure that do not satisfy an exception should be reported to the Privacy Officer to evaluate if the disclosure constitutes a Sale of PHI.

Responsibilities

Workforce members must:

- Ensure that any direct or indirect remuneration in exchange for PHI that constitutes a Sale of PHI meets an exception and is permissible under HIPAA and applicable state law without individual authorization.

- For such activities that do not meet an exception, patient authorization shall be obtained before any such disclosure of PHI in exchange for remuneration.

Definitions

Business Associate – A person or entity that performs certain functions or activities that involve the access, use, disclosure or creation of protected health information on behalf of the Columbia University Healthcare Component.

Columbia University Healthcare Component – Columbia University is a Hybrid Entity that has designated as its Healthcare Component (the Columbia University Healthcare Component) Columbia University Medical Center and the other colleges, schools, departments and offices of the University to the extent that they (i) provide treatment or health care services and engage in Covered Transactions electronically or (ii) receive Protected Health Information to provide a service to, or perform a function for or on behalf of, the Columbia University Healthcare Component.
